This last week of 2006 has been interesting, hasn't it? The news was full of reports of death... of President Ford, of Dictator Saddam Hussein, of Singer James Brown. What a picture of our world! Regardless of what you thought of each one, they each changed the world they lived in, and now the world will go on without them. The fact that their deaths occurred at the end of the year reminds us that we are always living between the past and the future.

So, will 2007 be a fresh beginning for you? What do you want? What will you be doing to make that happen? How will you partner with God in this New Year?
