

The Blessing of the Animals

Contributed by Alan Fahrner
Friday, 05 October 2007
Last Updated Monday, 08 December 2008

When Pastor Peggi felt the time was right in Antrim for an event to remember pets that moved on during the past year (and to bless those that are still with us)--little did she know what would be in the selection of pets to visit her!

Along with the usual collection of cats, dogs, and birds were a pair of llamas--seen here edging out Peggi in the height contest.

Peggi blessed various critters on the front lawn of the church from noon until 4PM, and then led a service of thanksgiving in the sanctuary.

God's blessings on all animals in Antrim--whether they were able to spend time with our pastor or not...

Choose "Read more" and then "Next" to go to the next page if you would like to see large versions of the images above (warning--they are pretty large)...